The Dublin Grand Opera Society takes pride in giving the following details of some of the distinguished artistes engaged for this season :

EBE STIGNANI

It is a great honour to Dublin to have Ebe Stignani, one of the greatest mezzo-sopranos of all time, singing here again. For thirty years this legendary artiste has thrilled audiences in the greatest opera houses in the world and only a few months ago she received an ovation not exceeded in twenty years at the Chicago opera house for the role she performs in Dublin, Azucena in Il Trovatore.

CATERINA MANCINI

Belongs to the great tradition of Italian dramatic sopranos. Principal soprano of the Opera House, Rome, she has sung in every major theatre in Italy. Among her many complete operatic recordings is Il Trovatore, which she sings in Dublin, as well as a Masked Ball.

VIRGINIA ZEANI

This wonderful Rumanian soprano, who thrilled Dublin audiences a year ago as Violetta, is gradually becoming one of the most sought-after sopranos in Italy. Since her appearances here she has been acclaimed at Rome, Naples, Palermo, and Florence. In Dublin she will sing Manon and Mimi.

ANTONIETTA PASTORI

Is one of the most beautiful young Coloratura sopranos in Italy. She has just sung Rosina in the "Barber" at the Rome Opera House. Noted for the intense feeling and artistry with which she sings, her Lucia in Dublin is looked forward to eagerly.

GIANNA D'ANGELO

Following her memorable performances here a year ago, this fine soprano sang at Glyndebourne and the Edinburgh Festivals and during the early part of this season she is singing at La Scala, Milan.

MARISA PINTUS

Was acclaimed by critics and public alike last October when she received the silver statuette awarded to the rising artiste of the year at the Orpheus Concorso at Mantua, one of the highest awards in Italy. Her performance here as Nedda in Pagliacci following a big tour abroad is eagerly awaited.

PAOLO SILVERI

This world-famous baritone needs no introduction to Dublin audiences who are so fortunate to obtain his services so frequently despite his many engagements in every great opera house in the world.

ALVINIO MISCIANO

Is another artiste who needs no introduction here. Discovered by Paolo Silveri, he not only sings in all the major theatres in Italy, where he has partnered Tebaldi at Naples, but he appears extensively abroad.

ANTONIO GALIE

Is another artiste whose beautiful voice made a great impression a year ago. Appearing in all the leading opera houses in Italy, he has sung in Andrea Chenier at Rome and a Masked Ball at the San Carlo, Naples, recently. He appears in this latter opera at the Gaiety as well as La Boheme and Lucia di Lammermoor.

ANTONIO ANNALORO

Is a member of La Scala. He sings in the other leading opera houses and was recently acclaimed for his Don Jose in Carmen at the San Carlo, Naples. He sings Manrico and Canio at the Gaiety.

DUBLIN GRAND OPERA SOCIETY

(In association with RADIO EIREANN)

FOR FOUR WEEKS COMMENCING APRIL 30th

Presents

Festival of Italian Opera

As their contribution to An Tostal, the D.G.O.S., in conjunction with Radio Eireann and with the co-operation of An Bord Failte, presents for their four-week Spring season another Festival of Italian opera, which brings some of the greatest artists of the operatic world to the Gaiety stage.

IL TROVATORE

April 30, May 3, 7, 10.

Ebe Stignani, one of the greatest mezzo-sopranos of all time, sings, perhaps her most famous role, Azucena, in Il Trovatore, in a cast which also includes Caterina Mancini, whose complete recording of this opera is well-known, and Paolo Silveri, who needs no introduction to Dublin audiences.

I PAGLIACCI SEGRETO DI SUSANNA

May 17, 21, 23, 25.

It is a coincidence that while Ebe Stignani, last October, received the Golden Statuette, awarded to the greatest artists of the year at the Orpheus Concursus at Mantua, Marisa Pintus, who will sing Nedda in I Pagliacci, was acclaimed by critics and public alike as the discovery of the same Concursus, when she received the Silver Statuette awarded to the rising artist of to-day. I Pagliacci's companion, The Secret of Susanna, by the comparatively modern German-Italian composer, Ermanno Wolf-Ferrari, who died in 1948, is a charming work abounding in lyrical melody and scintillating harmonies, and should not only be of great interest, but should become a favourite with Dublin audiences.

The Radio Eireann Symphony Orchestra is conducted by such world-famous conductors as Nino Verchi, Giuseppe Morelli, and the Society's Musical Director, Lieut.-Col. J. M. Doyle.

BALLO IN MASCHERA

May 12, 15, 19, 22.

Two of the outstanding successes of last Spring opera season are repeated—Un Ballo in Maschera, with Mancini, Silveri, Galie, Protero, etc., and Lucia di Lammermoor, in which Gianna d'Angelo

LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR

May 1, 4, 24, 26.

and Antonietta Pastori of the San Carlo, Naples, sings two performances each of the leading role.

MANON

May 8, 11, 16, 18.

Virginia Zeani, the famous Rumanian soprano, who will be remembered for her memorable performances as Violetta a year ago, will sing two leading roles in the season—Manon in Massenet's beautiful and best-known opera, and Mimi in La Boheme, in which Celine Murphy, the young Irish soprano, sings Musetta.

LA BOHEME

May 2, 5, 9, 14.
